The Stanley Cup was brought to his parents' home on Navan Road on Saturday August 6th by Boston Bruins coach Claude Julien. News of the visit travelled fast and by 4 p.m. about 500 people were lined up for a chance to meet Julien and have their picture taken with the most famous mug in sports.

A BIG THANK-YOU

The Navan Park Plan Committee, operating under the Navan Community Association, would like to sincerely thank BFI Canada and Friends of The Mer Bleue Inc for their generous financial contribution to the Navan Centennial Park Embellishment Project. The $33,700 that was received from the BFI/Friends of The Mer Bleue Inc Community Fund financed the beautiful shade shelter, which is a great addition to the newly improved park and which was desired by many Navan residents. Phase 2 of the project is now complete. The grant will also bring forth Phase 3 with the acquisition of a new waste receptacle which will assist park users in keeping the area neat. Pictured above from the left; Friends of the Mer Bleue Inc members Ray Vetter, Jim Petrie (president), Edwin Morton and Cherrill Boyer; BFI Canada district manager Norm Castonguay; Navan Park Plan Committee members Emmanuelle Grandmaitre, Anne-Marie Potvin and Ghyslaine Lalonde (absent: Margaret MacNeill).

150 ANNIVERSARY FLOAT

Congratulations on the wonderful float that was entered in the Navan Fair Parade. Thanks goes to Chantal Soucy and Julie St. Jean for taking this task on. The Town Crier entertained the onlookers all along the parade route. We are getting very close to raising enough money for the Commemorative Town Clock Plaza. A great tribute to all Navanites who, throughout the years, have helped to make this village pretty special!!

TIPS FOR THE MONTH

September Gardening Tips

1. Plant peonies now, but make sure the crowns are buried only one and a half to two inches below ground level. Planting them deeper than two inches may keep them from blooming.
2. Root cuttings from annual bedding plants such as begonias, coleus, geraniums and impatiens. These plants can be overwintered in a sunny window and provide plants for next year's garden.

3. Before the first frost dig up caladiums. Allow them to dry and store them in a dry place for the winter.
4. Perennial phlox can be divided about every third or fourth year. Divide big clumps of perennial phlox into thirds. Early fall or early spring are the best times to plant or transplant them.
5. Divide lily-of-the-valley.
6. Select accent plants for your landscape that will provide autumn colors. Trees that have red fall color are flowering dogwood, red maple, sugar maple, Norway maple, red oak and scarlet oak. Shrubs with red fall foliage include sumac, viburnum, winged euonymus and barberry.
7. Allow plants to finish the summer growth cycle in a normal manner. Never encourage growth with heavy applications of fertilizer or excessive pruning at this time. Plants will delay their dormancy process that has already begun in anticipation of winter in the months ahead. New growth can be injured by an early freeze.
8. Tree wound paints used after pruning are no longer recommended as they can slow healing and may promote decay.

9. If pesky seedlings of woody plants, such as elm, mulberry hackberry or maple are found growing in your yard, remove them as soon as possible. If left too long they will take over gardens and other landscape plantings.
10. Rake up leaves, twigs and fruit from crabapple trees and dispose of them in the trash to help control apple scab disease.
11. Water newly planted trees and shrubs to provide sufficient moisture and prevent winter damage. Add a three inch layer of organic mulch such as shredded bark around the base of plants to retain soil moisture and regulate soil temperature.

NAVAN NUGGET

12. Wood ashes contain phosphorous, potassium and calcium. It can be placed on vegetable gardens and flower beds.
13. Save seeds from favorite self-pollinating, non-hybrid flowers such as marigolds by allowing the flower heads to mature. Lay seeds on newspaper and turn them often to dry. Store the dry seeds in glass jars or envelopes in a cool, dry, dark place.
14. Hot peppers will keep best if stored after they are dry. Thread the peppers on a string to dry. Hang in a cool, dry place.
15. Pot up chives, parsley and other herbs to extend the growing season in the house.
16. Be sure to keep strawberry beds weed free. Every weed you pull now will help make weeding much easier next spring.
17. Do not wait for frost warnings to move your plants indoors. Temperatures of 45 degrees Fahrenheit or lower can damage many tropical house plants.
18. Collect okra seed pods, gourds, sumac seed heads, rose hips and other suitable materials for dried arrangements. Air dry these materials in a dark, cool location.
19. Fall is a good time for improving your garden soil. Add manure, compost and leaves to increase the organic matter content.
